LOWER COURT OBEYED

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(P)—
The supreme court upheld 7 to 2 today the contempt convictions of John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers for refusing to call off their soft coal strike last November.

In an extraordinary midweek ruling that caught the nation by surprise the high court in effect gave the Truman administration a smashing victory in its titanic struggle with Lewis and his miners.

There was no immediate reaction

Tire of undetermined origin swept a cottonseed warehouse of John L. Lewis and cleaners, in the building, including conveyons, graders, cullers and cleaners, together with sacks and other material, was destroyed.

According to officials the 125x80-foot building was the largest of the Bryant seed interests, and the concern. It was full of seed ready for shipment.

Officials at the North Beaton street office would not attempt to fix a loss figure in the absence of the seed at the countryside for miles, spectators said.

BAD WEATHER HAMPERS CELEBRATION, BUT ALL GOES WELL ON VISIT

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD WACO, March 6.-(AP)-A cold, blowing rain greeted President Truman in Waco as he stepped from his plane at 9:57 a. m. (CST) today.

It was in sharp contrast to the warm sunshine of Mexico City, where he had spent the last three days in a history-making visit. The Sacred Cow was well ahead of the 500 soldiers and policemen lining the highway into town, and guarding the streets.

Truman, sitting in the back of the plane, was seen grinning broadly and waving as the Sacred Cow taxied up the slick runway.

The plane moved to the control tower and halted. Secret service men swarmed to the field.

Trade Peace Vital To World, President Declares

Foreign Economic Policy Is becommic warfare, our government has proposed, and others have agreed, that there be set up, within the United Nations, another agency to be concerned with problems and policies affecting world trade. This is the International trade organization. Becommic Code Planned Reduction Of Barriers Urged

WACO, Tex., March 6-(P)—Following is the text of President Truman's address today at Baylor University:

It is with a real sense of gratification that I meet with you today on the beautiful campus of Baylor University in Waco. I congratulate you on the outstanding achievements of this great University during the one hundred and one years of its existence. I am sincerely grateful for the degree of Doctor of Laws that you have bestowed upon me, and I am honored to become a fellow alumnus of the dislinguished men and women of this institution who have considered so much to make our country great.

Peace, Freedom World Goal At this particular time, the whole world is concentrating much of its thought and energy on attaining the objectives are bound up completely with a third objective—reestablishment of world trade—are inseparable. The grave lessons of the past have proved it Many of our people, here in Amny of our p trade organization.

Economic Code Planued

This oranization would apply to commercial relationships the same principle of fair dealing that the United Nations is applying to political affairs. Instead of retaining unlimited freedom to commit acts of economic aggregation.

separable. The grave lessons of the past have proved it.

Many of our people, here in America, used to think that we could escape the troubles of the world by simply staying within our own borders. Two wars have shown us how wrong they were. We know today that we cannot find security in isolation. If we are to live at peace, we must join with other nations in a continuing effort to organize the world for peace. Science and invention have left us no alternative.

League Fallure Cited
After the first World War, the United States proposed a League of Nations, an organization to maintain order in the world. But when our proposal was accepted and the League was established, this country failed to become a member.

Can any thoughtful person fail to realize today what that mistake cost this nation and cost the world?

This time we are taking a different course. Our country has taken a leading part in building the United Nations, and in putting them to work. We are doing everything the morns at the councils, its committees and commissions, and in putting them to work. We are doing everything the morns at the contents, and commissions, and in putting them to work. We are doing everything the morns and the presentation of the depositors who in the day of the grave heen dumped.

"Economic War" Explained In elther case, the producer gets in elements since the war. If the nations can agree to observe and sury, it as you or I would get angry, just as you or I would get angry its as a producer gets. If the nations can agree to observe angry its ach a thing were done to war. If the nations can agree to observe angry its and a thing were done to werning and without reason. He producer feels that he has been wronged, without the world and another round of tariff became more and inverted the preservation of tariff and another round of tariff become war. In

Economic Pressure Seen

Economic Pressure Seen

Everywhere on earth, nations are under pressure Countries that were devastated by the war are seeking to reconstruct their industries. Their need to import, in the months that lie thead will exceed their capacity to export. And so they feel that imports must be rigidly controlled.

Countries that have lagged in their development are seeking to industrialize. In order that new industries may be established, they too, feel that or reting imports must be rigidly controlled. Nor is, this all. The porducts of some countries are in great denaed. But buyers satisfied their horders do not hold the money of these countries in quantities large enough to enable them to pay for for the goods they want. And they find these monies lifficult to earn. Importing countries, when they make their purchas therefore. find these monies lifficult to earn. Importing countries, when they make their purchas, therefore seek to discriminate against countries whose currencies they do not possess. Here, again, they feel that imports must be rigidly controlled.

Import Cutting Discussed

One way to cut down on imports is by curtailing the freedom of traders to use foreign money to pay for imported goods. Bu' recourse to this device is now limited by the terms of the British loan course to this device is now limited by the terms of the British loan agreement and the rules of the International monetary fund. Another way to cut down on imports is by raising tariffs.

But if controls over trade are really to be tight, tariffs are not enough. Even more drastic meas-

Happliy, our foreign economic policy does not now rest upon a base of narrow partisar. The Ladder's Auxiliary of the International Association of Machense safeguarding clause—should provide assurance is both parties have expressed their faith in its essential purposes

OITRUS CHICKEN PIE...Fruit dress-up for an old favorite.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor
With citrus fruit plentiful, as it certainly has been thir year, try our unusual use of grapefruit in the Citrus Pie below. With it you have to serve only a good green salad with onlon rings, some very special rolls—and a good dessert. You guests will be delighted with the whole thing. Try it and see.

Citrus Chicken Pie
3 tablespoons shortening or chicken fat, 1 cup silced fresh nushrooms, 2 tablespoons chopped onlon, 5 tablespoons flour, 3-4 cup milk, 3-4 teaspoon salt. 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 11-2 cups diced cooked chick
Mix well and pour mixture with eggs and chicken stock or broth, 3-4 cup milk, 3-4 teaspoon salt. 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 11-2 cups diced cooked chick Mix well and pour mixture into baked pastry shell. Sprinkle top with the cheese and bake in a moderate oven (325*) for 20 mins.

A Definition of Our Town

Somebody defined our town just the other day as "A place where the people talk about you behind your back, and come to wait on you when you're sick."

I've got to admit there's something to it. A lot of our folks are inclined to be pretty outspoken and quick to criticize . . . even about little things, like a woman's hat, or a man's preference for a glass of beer, or the color of Cy Hartman's new barn.

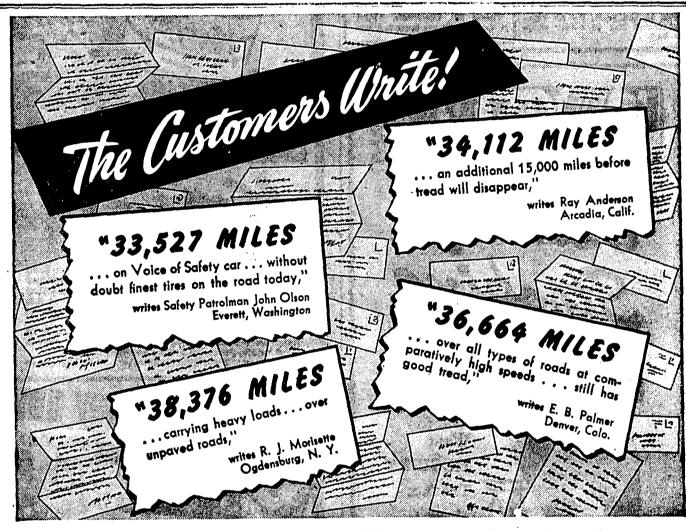

But when anyone's in trouble, those differences and points of criticism are forgottem . . . folks become neighborly and helpful, like they really are,

From where I sit, criticism never did much harm to anybody, so long as folks don't let it guide their actions . . . so long as they respect our individual preferences, whether they apply to hats or beer. That's the way it is in our town, anyway, and I hope that it's

Here's Proof of Extra Mileage in the Tire That new B. F. Goodrich Silvertown are not uncommon. Nor are we surprised at this evidence of long mileage . . . because before a single tire was offered for public sale, millions of test miles on police cars, taxi fleets and special test cars had proved this new tire would outwear brewar tires. This extra mileage was scientifically engineered into the tires. First, a wider, flatter tread was developed for longer wear and greater protection against skidding. Second, to hold that huskier tread, a new 35% stronger cord body cords which gave better resistance to bruising and road shock.

SHORT RIBS

With style trends running to longer skirts, home acamstresses are busy adding inches to dresses, says Eva Sue Merritt, county home demonstration agent.

While adding an inch or more to a short skirt is often simple task, the seamstress sometimes strikes a problem, especially when facing is required or if the back of the hem is shiny from many pressings, the agent advises.

In case of shiny wool fabrics, rip the hem and steam-press it on the wrong side of the fabric, provided the wool is lightweight, or has a raised pattern in the weave, says Miss Merritt. For thick wool, right side pressing may be more effective. To steam press, cover the fabric with a dry wool cloth, then with a cotton cloth dampened in water, and use a warm from. If the fabric still shines after pressing, try raising the nap of the wool with a brush or rubber sponge—the kind used for suede.

brush or rubber sponge—the kind used for suede.

If a skirt hem must be let out to its full extent, seam binding or facing material are needed, the agent says. If the dress fabric is heavy, the seam binding may be sewed directly to the skirt edge. Then the binding should be turned up so that about one-fourth inch of the dress material is on the underside of the fourth inch of the dress material is on the underside of the skirt—that is, the fold shouldn't be made along the line where seam binding and dress fabric join, as this would make the skirt edge ripple unattractively. If the dress goods is light weight, a facing about an inch wide is needed, to give body to the edge of the skirt.

When sewing a facing to

When sewing a facing to a skirt edge, an ordinary seam will do, if the skirt is of light weight goods, says Miss Merritt. But with heavier material, it may be best to turn under the edge of the facing and top-stitch it to the skirt edge. Once attached, the facing should be turned up, so that the fold is about one-fourth inch from the edge. Then the facing can be hemmed to the skirt, or the edge finished with seam binding and sewed to the underside of the skirt with a catch-stitch or slip stitch. When sewing a facing to

Joint Tax Return By Husband, Wife May Save Money

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the tenth of 12 stories explaining who must do what about filing his income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, March 6.—(*P)—
Here are points to remember about husband-wife filing of 1946 income tax returns by March 15.

A husband cets a $500 exemption for himself and he can claim another $500 exemption for his wife if she had no income.

If she had $500 or more income, she must file, either separately or she must file, either separately or jointly with her husband. In such a case, if she files sep-arately, she claims her $500 exemption and the husband claims only

Total Exemption $100

If they file jointly, they claim a total exemption of ".000.

If the wife has less than $500 income, sne doesn't have to file a return but, no matter how small that income was, if she doesn't file—

Her husband can't claim the usual $500 exemption for her and, of course, since she isn't filing, she can't claim her own $500 exemption for her and, of course, since she isn't filing, she can't claim her own $500 exemptions.

emption.

Keep these two things in mind:

Two Important Points

1. Treasury experts say that where a wife has income less than $500—and she and her husband are going to file a return—they'll save money by making a joint return.

2. Whree husband and wife can file jointly on Form W-2, the withholding statement, they should do so. It will save them time and effort, and for this reason: effort, and for this reason:

effort, and for this reason:

The collector, by law, goes over their return and must figure out which is cheaper for them, a single or joint return. He gives them the benefit of the cheaper way.

Try Both Ways

If you're not in those two groups above try both ways—single and

If you're not in those two groups above, try both ways—single and joint returns—before deciding which you'll give the collector as your 1946 return.

The reason for trying it both ways is this: There's no simple answer to the question "Do husband and wives save money by filing single or joint returns?"

A total return may save for one A joint return may save for one ouple by giving them full benefit couple was under $5,000, they can file jointly on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form or the long-form, depending upon their reason for making a choice.

If their combined income was $5,000 or more, but individually less, they can file separately on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form, or jointly on the long-form.

When they file separately on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-from, each is allowed a deduction of about 10 percent for personal expenses. It's already figured into the tax table on Form W-2 or the 1040 short-form, they are allowed one deduction of about 10 percent but it is 10 percent of their combined income. bined income.

Separate Filing Explained
When they file separately on the 1040 long-form, with the income of each $5,000 or more, each is allowed a standard deduction of $500 for ed a standard deduction of $500 for personal expenses.

If they file jointly on the long-form, they are allowed only one standards deduction of $500 from their combined income, not a $500 deduction for each of them.

But if one uses the long-form and itemizes deductions, the other must use it and itemize, too.

Last vear husbands and wives must use it and itemize, too.

Last year husbands and wives had to think of two kinds of exemptions when they filed a return:

a normal tax exemption and a surtax exemption.
One Process Changed

That's because, in figuring the tax, you had to work out, step-by-step, the normal tax and the surtax. There's been a change.

This year, in the actual figuring, the normal tax and the surtax have ben combined.

So now you think only of one $500 exemption for the wife and one for the husband: whether you can claim only one or both and deduct them from your income be-fore it is taxed with the combined

That's why, to make it easy on you, no distincion was made in this story between normal and surtax exemptions for husbands (Friday: The 1947 income tax estimate—who must make it).

The cause of the explosion is believed to have been a leak in a gas pipe in the heater. One of the women had just walked out of the kitchen preparatory to washing clothes in the sink when the accident occurred, tearing most of the paper off the wall, smashing windows, and knocking furniture and groceries about. A section of the heater went through the roof and another plunged through the floor to the ground, according to Mrs. A. A. Melton, mother of the two women, who resides near the Eurnett home. The two women were thrown to the floor by the explosion, it was stated, and all the fires in other sections of the house were extinguished by the force of the blast. Greatness That Serves - - The Foot-Washing Leader - Conditions Under Which Jesus Said, "I Have Given You an Example" -- The New Mood That Would Make a New World

What is death

Harbours secure .

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS
One of the most significant incidents in the life of Jesus, and one fraught with meaning for our own day, the washing of His disciples feet, is the assigned Lesson for today, to be studied by many millions, young and old. It is high drama and profound philosophy, And it points the way out for troubled times.

The setting was the farewell supper of the Master with the twelve disciples in the upper room. Despite the solemn significance of the occasion, and the heart-broken mood of the Leader, the Twelve were squabbling about their own importance. Even in that high hour, and in the presence of the Master who w.s preparing them for His death, these His intimates, upon whom He depended for the carrying on of His Mission, were behaving like a lot of stupid politicians. They even refused the friendly rite of foot-washing to one another.

A Crown, A Towel

First Jesus invested Himself with His royal purple, and, figure, bead. We ponder John's description of the act: "Jesus, knowing the came forth from '&d, and the came forth from '&d, and He came forth from '&d, and He took a towel, and girded Himself. Then He poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to vipe them with the towel wherewith He was girded."

After the act, Jesus drove home

In judging others, a man labours to no purpose, commonly errs and easily sins; but in examining and judging himself, he is always wisely and usefully employed. the significance of what He had done: "Know ye what I have done unto you? Ye call me Teacher and unto you? Ye call me Teacher and always wisely and usefully employed.

If I then, the Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, ye ought to wash one another's feet. For I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done to you."

The Royalty of Sanday School Lesson For March 9 is, "Jesus Washes the Disciples Feet."—John 13.

The Royalty of Service
Of course the reader catches the profound significance of this, as applied to our day. Selfishness and pride and dignity and "rights" have paralyzed real progress toward world peace. Everybody seems to be thinking only of himself, his nations, his class, his profitis, his dignity.

By that road the Kingdom of Heaven can never come to earth.
It is the antithesis of all that Jesus taught and did. He came "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister." His life was lived under the royal law of service. Again and again the Scripture record is clear
He "emptied Himself," and "made Himself of no reputation."
Here we come under a Divine imperative. Our duty, as followers of the Master is to do as He did. There is soul-moving meaning in His categorical command, after perfroming a deed of lowliest service, "I have given you an example, that ye also should do as I have done unto you." He who took upon Himself the form of a servant requires that all who wear His name should follow in His steps.

Disciples Feet." John 13.

The Countless Company
It would not be fair treatment of this Lesson to deal only with the many who flout the clear teachings of Jesus. On the other hand are millions of humble Christians who sincerely and continually pattern their lives on the teachings and in the spirit of Jesus. Consider the mothers whose life is largely service, and who look to Christ as their pattern and reward. All the best in our civilireward. All the best in our civilization roots back to the teachings and continuing power of the King who once girded Himself with a towel and did a servant's task which His friends were too proud to do.

A meeting of the Hamilton-Beermand and Cemetery Association has been called for Tuesday, March 11, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John Howell, it was announced today.

Sun Want Ads bring Results. Blundering Peter Again task for His shamed friends, Peter doubtless expressing the embarrassment of the company, protested that the Lord should never wash his feet. When the Master gently rebuked him, Peter reversed himself and proposed that Jesus should bathe also his hands and his head, Peter was ever a man of extremes and extravagances. Like many of us, he would press the teachings of Jesus beyond their clear intent.

Some small denominations still practice the rite of foot-washing, and it long was the habit of potentates and prelates to wash the feet of a dozen carefully chosen and prepared poor persons. Of task for His shamed friends. Peter

THIRTEEN LETTERMEN FROM LAST YEAR ARE REPORTING TO CORNER

WORKOUTS ARE BEING HELD AT GARITTY FIELD EACH AFTERNOON

The State Home's practice sessions for 1947 track season are already under way, and 23 candidates, including 13 squadmen back from last year's Lad district championship team, are working out daily at the State Home's tack layout at Garitty Field.

This year's Lad thinly clads will have a high mark to shoot at. The State Home has won the district 14-B championship for two years in a row, and last year took the area title and went to regional competition before losing.

in a row, and last year took the area title and went to regional competition before losing.

The Lads have been training for some time, except for those boys who were on the basketball squad. Some of the cagers were key track men, and the basketball season, just concluded, kept them from giving any attention to track workouts.

The Climax of the track season, the goal toward which the Lads are working is the district meet, said Tuesday that the Lad tracksters will participate in the Texas Relays in Austin, the top Texas tract attraction, on March 28 and 29.

The 13 Lad squadmen from last year's team and the events in which they are entered, are:

Neighbors Plough Fields For Sick Pursley Farmer

Expressions of sympathy are soothing to the ear hut kind words have never been known to do any ploughing.

Will Cooper of the Pursley community has been confined to his bed on account of liness for the past month.

Ploughing time arrived and with Cooper still incapacitated, his neighbors looked the situation over and decided time for action, not words, had arrived.

Last Thursday a group of neighbors drove their tractors into Cooper's field and put the soil in tip-top condition for planting.

"I have some of the hest people in the world for neighbors," Cooper commented adding that "this is enough to make a person feel better."

COTTON SHIPMENTS TO GERMANY, JAPAN

WASHINGTON, March 4.—(R)—Burris Jackson, Hillsboro, Texas, a Treas Cotton Association official, says he has urged Secretary of Agriculture Anderson that shipments of American raw cotton to Germany and Japan be increased.

"All American cotton now moving to Germany and Japan be increased. "All American cotton now moving to Germany and Japan is nandled through government channels," Jackson told a reporter.

"The cotton industry is anxious to reestablish private trading as soon as feasible. We also want to increase the amount of American cotton going to these countries." As a member of Anderson's cotton export advisory board, Jackson said he suggested at a conference with the secretary that officials of that group might come to Washington soon to confer with Peter McDermit, import-export advisor to General Douglas MacArthur, before the latter leaves for Japan.

W. L. Walker of Houston, Tex., is head of the advisory board. As a member of Anderson's cot-

Corsicana Girl In Theatre School Play

The campus theater at the Leland Powers School of Theater and Radio in Boston, Mass., was the scene on Friday evening for the presentation of "Ah! Wildernes," the popular stage play by Eugene O'Neill, in which Miss Barbara Marshall, daughter of Mrs. Callie Marshall, took the leading role. Miss Marshall has been honored with leading roles in four other plays that have been staged by the school since herentrance as a student in September. er. The theater was packed to capac ity on Friday evening and Miss Marshall received the plaudits of drama devotees upon her charac-terization of a "shy girl in love."

HARRISON CHARGES REPORT OF MEETING "VERY MISLEADING"

The following communication has been received by the Corsicana Daily Sun from W. V. Harrison, chairman of the resolutions committee of the Navarro County committee of the Navarro County Teachers Association:

"It is the opinion of the resolutions committee of the Navarro County Teachers Association that the report of the Association's meeting carried in Saturday's Daily Sun is very misleading.

"As chairman of the resolutions committee I offered certain renarks in elucidation of the resolutions submitted. I spoke from memoranda which fortunately I preserved.

"The report states that one resolution was "aimed at Senctor Taylor!"

It seems to me a fairer comment
